Law and Ethics: Updates for Clinicians

Training Description

This course examines specific recent and planned changes to California law and professional ethics codes for mental health professionals. Case examples bring focus to how these changes actually apply in clinical work, inside and outside of the therapy room. Participants will gain understanding of how their personal values and ethics sometimes enter into professional decision making. The training will also address common legal and ethical issues encountered when working with children and families. We close with discussion of the expanding role of technology and social media in our clients' lives and in professional practice.

Learning Objectives

Participants will be able to:

- List at least four recent changes in relevant state law for California mental health providers.
- List at least two recent changes in relevant state regulation for California mental health providers.
- List at least three requirements under federal law for mental health providers.
- Describe at least three common causes for professional disciplinary actions.
- Describe at least two ethical concerns surrounding app-based psychotherapy.

Continuing Education

This course meets the qualifications for six (6) hours of continuing education credit for MFTs, LPCCs, LEPs, and/or LCSWs as required by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences. Placer County Systems of Care, CAMFT-approved Continuing Education Provider #041035, maintains responsibility for this course and its content.

About the Instructor

Dr. Benjamin Caldwell is a California licensed marriage and family therapist and clinical supervisor. He is the author of five books, including Basics of California Law for LMFTs, LPCCs, and LCSWs, which is now on its 10th edition, and Saving Psychotherapy. He serves as adjunct faculty for California State University, Northridge. In his past role as Chair of the Legislative and Advocacy Committee for the California Division of AAMFT, he was directly involved in California's first-in-the-nation ban on reparative therapy for minors, and he drove the change in title from "intern" to "associate" for pre-licensed MFTs and PCCs. For his advocacy work, he was awarded the AAMFT Division Contribution Award in 2013. Ben maintains a private practice in Los Angeles, specializing in working with couples.
